Hancock Bank Sixty Years In Business

The Hancock Bank, originally the Hancock County Bank, observed its 60th anniversary October 9, 1959. In 1899 a group of enterprising and public spirited citizens gathered at the Court House in Bay St. Louis to organize a bank, the nearest facility of this type was located in Biloxi. On October 9, of that year, the Hancock County Bank opened its business with a paid-up capital of $10,000.00 and deposits totaling $8,337.41. Peter Helliweg was named president of the bank and served in that capacity until 1907, with Eugene Roberts as cashier. Mr. Roberts served as cashier from 1899 to 1908 when he was made president and served as such until 1918. In April 1902, at the urgent request of citizens of Pass Christian, who were without a bank, the Hancock Bank opened its banking house in that city. The Hancock Bank in Pearlport moved its charter to Long Beach in 1926 and then to Gulfport in August, 1932. In the midst of the 1932 depression, and at the invitation of Gulfport citizens, who were without banking facilities, Hancock Bank brought its service to Gulfport which, in 1938, became the bank's main office. Over a period of half a century, the Hancock Bank has grown in strength and service from its original resources of $18,000.00 to an amount over $30,000,000. With the start of World War II, the national economic growth resulting therefrom, along with population growth, gave great impetus to the expansion of the Hancock Bank. In 1955 additional banking facilities were added to the Coast area with branch banks at Long Beach and on the Pass Road, Gulfport; these are equipped with drive-in window accommodations. The Hancock Bank presently accommodates its customers from Gulfport to Bay St. Louis and Waveland in every banking need. Banking facilities, with complete banking services offered, will be extended to the Mississippi City-Handboro area in the near future. Among those who have held office at the bank were J. F. Cate, nee who was vice-president and cashier in 1901, named vice-president and cashier in 1908 and served in that capacity until 1921; and H. S. Weston, who served as president from 1918 to 1931. Leo W. Seal, the present president, who was elected to the office in 1932, entered the bank as cashier in 1919 and served as cashier from 1921 to 1931. In 1938 when the Charter of the bank was amended, changing the name to Hancock Bank, the domicile of the Corporation was moved from Bay St. Louis to Bay St. Louis then became a branch of the Gulfport office. The name "Hancock" was retained as the original County Bank had long built a reputation of strength and stability.

... freedom's textbook

Freedom is expressed in many ways by many people, but almost universally, freedom has been stimulated and taught in the pages of a free press—free to seek out the truth and free to express these facts.

Never has any part of human society been called on more consistently than the press to play a significant role in protecting the rights of individuals. Your newspaper today is not only a key to better living, but it is truly freedom's textbook.

To limit the press in its attempt to obtain accurate and factual information would be to limit your right to know—a basic concept in a free society. Despite this role, there are those who would deprive newspaper readers of this freedom.

The barring of reporters from town council meetings, legislative hearings, public committee meetings, and court trials is in a real sense an infringement on your right to know; a restriction on your newspaper's right to teach and report.

Certainly these practices should be condemned.

But we could hardly take such a stand without first looking to ourselves and knowing full well that we practice what we advocate.

Let's take as an example our relations with our advertisers. The most important function we serve for them is in providing the circulation which gives the audience to their printed sales messages. We feel that each advertiser has a right to know all the facts about this audience before he is invited to tell his sales story through our advertising columns.

Just as the reporter should not be denied the facts on events or transactions having public interest, neither should anyone with a legitimate interest be deprived of information which is essential as a sound basis for investing his advertising dollars.

Just as we believe that complete information regarding the advertising value of this newspaper should be available to our advertisers, so do we fight for the right of our readers to be fully informed regarding subjects affecting their interests.

The press, as the recognized medium for informing the people, should be given every opportunity to obtain the facts. Only after every door closed by a public official has been opened to the press, shall we have complete freedom of information.

Only so long as this is true can your newspaper effectively serve as freedom's textbook.

First Regular Meeting Of North Central P. T. A. Held, October 8th.

The first regular meeting of the North Central Parent-Teachers Association was held in the school cafeteria, Thursday, October 8, at 7:30 p. m., with an attendance of 175.

Wilton Ladner, temporary chairman, called the meeting to order. R. E. Webb gave the invocation. In the absence of J. C. Mauffray, chairman of the Nominating Committee, Mr. Ladner read the list of nominees: President, R. C. Knowlton of Lestown; 1st vice-president, Tommy Shaw of Sellers; 2nd vice-president, James Chevas of Catahoula; secretary, Clifton Ladner of Vidalia; treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Dunham of Kiln. B. P. McCormick's motion to accept the recommendations of the nominating committee, carried unanimously. Mr. Ladner thanked the membership for the confidence placed in him, commended the choices of the nominating committee, pledged his support to the organization, and then turned the meeting over to Mr. Knowlton.

Mr. Knowlton in accepting the presidency, thanked the membership and stated that there could be an active, efficient organization only through the combined efforts of the members. He pointed out that the PTA should operate for the betterment of the children and the community and that politics should play no part in a child's education. The PTA will not attempt to dictate policies to the school administration or to the school board but will attempt to influence them to make the right decisions.

Mr. Webb thanked those in attendance for their interest in the PTA and the school. Mr. Knowlton recommended that if an officer should miss three consecutive meetings, he would be automatically removed from office.

In the absence of Mrs. Dunham, Mrs. G. S. Kennedy was asked to serve as temporary treasurer and was instructed to mail the state and national dues. Mr. Webb, who, as school superintendent is bonded, has had custody of the cash, was authorized to write a check in the amount of $47 for the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers. He was requested to retain the balance ($47) until the next meeting when the money will be turned over to Mrs. Dunham.

Mr. Knowlton requested that all who would volunteer to serve on committees register with the secretary after the meeting.

Mr. J. C. Harrel offered the benediction. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 5, in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p. m.

HANCOCK BANK—GULFPORT

Mississippi City-Handsboro Branch Opening Soon

Pass Road

Hancock Bank observes its Sixtieth Anniversary. It began its career at Bay St. Louis in 1899, opened its bank in Pass Christian in 1902, extended its operations to Gulfport in 1932, where it established Headquarters in 1938. In 1955, Hancock Bank extended service to Long Beach and Northeast Gulfport. Complete banking service will be extended to the Mississippi City-Handsboro area soon.

As Hancock Bank celebrates its Sixtieth Birthday and passes another milestone in sixty years of service to this community, it is mindful of its many obligations to a people who have contributed so substantially to its undertaking. Its vaults and the hearts of those who direct its affairs overflow with appreciation.

Your kindness and active participation are as much a part of the bank's history and its achievements as the foresight of its founders and the efforts of its employees, directors and officials.

The combined thought and labors of many men and women have gone into the bank's development. We are gratified that we have active accounts on our books begun by our friends when the bank was first opened, October 9, 1899, and that the children and grandchildren of these original customers are doing business with us.

Hancock Bank has been much more than a safe place to keep money, make loans and pay by check. Its many conveniences and its comprehensive service have facilitated business, promoted commercial and industrial enterprise, helped individuals, stimulated civic improvements, encouraged reforestation, aided agriculture, developed shipping and supported better schools, roads and churches.

To thousands of depositors and countless others, the name Hancock Bank stands for financial strength, stability and integrity. Founded on sound banking principles and the spirit of service, its affairs have always been conducted by men who regard banking as a Public Trust.

We are grateful for your good will and will do our utmost to merit your continued confidence and cooperation. As Hancock Bank moves on with you into the future, it rededicates itself to the service of its customers and the Mississippi Coast, that ours may be through the years to come a community of increasing prosperity and happiness.

We will keep the faith.

OPENING SET OCTOBER 1

Frontier 'Town' Will Feature Buggy, Furniture Production

EMMETT, Ark. — A colorful page of American history has been neatly sliced out and placed along U.S. Highway 67 near this southwest Arkansas town.

The attraction is "Arkla Village," an authentic re-creation of a mid-1800's frontier town — with these unique touches of realism:

At one end of "Main Street" is the new, freshly-painted wooden plant of Arkla Carriage Works — believed to be the first large-scale horse and pony carriage factory to be built in the United States in a half century or more.

Next door is another plant engaged in a type of manufacturing just as firmly grounded in America's pioneer heritage — furniture making. The factory at first will be engaged in turning out five early American-styled styles of rocking chairs — one of a handful of plants in the country specializing in rockers.

Arkla Village will be formally dedicated on Saturday, October 17. It will get a rousing frontier-style send-off — with a horse and buggy exhibition, a country music band, cowboy riding and roping and other events, including such small-fry-pleasing games as a "last-draw" contest with cap pistols. Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus will officially dedicate the Village, and other notables will be present for the opening.

A Trip Into Yesteryear

A visit to Arkla Village is a trip into gracious, unhurried yesteryear — when there were no TV sets, high-powered cars or tranquilizer pills.

The Village could well serve as the set for a television Western. Stroll along the dirt main street and you'll see the inevitable saloon complete with swinging doors (but dispensing sarsaparilla, root beer and coffee) and, on the corner, an old-time General Store.

Across the way is the village blacksmith shop (manned by a smith who had several teeth kicked out by a horse), and next door is the lively stable. On down are the sheriff's office and jail, a horse corral and show track and stadium.

Thus, here will be the hub of carriage manufacturing for the United States and of rocking chair making for the Central South.

Arkla Village possesses all the rough-and-ready atmosphere of a mid-19th Century frontier town, right down to the last detail of including the type of industry of that day. At the same time, it's a unique manufacturing center where the frontier surroundings are in keeping with the products made.

Three Producers Acquired Arkla Industries, of Little Rock, Ark., which operates the Village and is part of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., has been in the buggy business for some time. Arkla purchased the carriage division of the Huntington Wagon Works, of Huntington, Ind., last year. It since then also has acquired the Standard Vehicle Co., of Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Robinson-McGill Harness Co., Shelbyville, Tenn., originator of the famed "Jim Key" harness.

Thus three of the sole remaining major manufacturers of buggies and accessories have been corralled into one bustling stable here — reviving a business which many Americans would regard as dead.

Arkla has been pleased to discover the horse and buggy days are far from gone. As a result of the nationwide interest it has stirred in carriages, production has been moving along at a near-capacity clip. Some big buggy buyers: Horse lovers and racing enthusiasts, certain religious groups who shun motorized transportation, Western film makers and restaurants, resort hotels and other businesses where carriages serve as practical transportation and as advertising "vehicles."

Old Carriage Line Continued

Arkla is continuing to produce the 75-year-old line of Huntington carriages, including buggies, surreys, carts, wagons and runabouts. It also makes harness, collars and other horse and pony accessories.

The Arkla rocking chair story is a little different. With rockers, the company began from scratch. After studying hundreds of designs, it finally settled upon five basic ones, all rooted in early American or frontier tradition. Then the styling department was instructed to make each chair authentic, after which Engineering was handed the job of mass producing them from native hardwoods, while retaining a hand-built appearance and quality.

A favorite "Arkla-ism" is that Arkla Village carriages and rockers "chase away tension, heart attacks and hypochondria."

MISSISSIPPI HAS GAINED NEW INDUSTRIES

Mississippi gained 34 new industries during the third quarter of 1959; and another 17 industries expanded, providing 2407 new industrial jobs. This brings the total for the first nine months of 1959 to 79 new industries and 36 expansions, providing 7316 new industrial jobs. This is a new record for new industrial jobs in any one year, exceeding the high of 6815 in 1953, and a new record for number of new industries, topping the 70 new industries in 1958. Mississippi's total manu## facturing employment reached a new high of 120,500 in August.

BIG NEW INDUSTRIES ANNOUNCE
The biggest new industries announced during the third quarter of 1959 were Tainless Ware Co., of America at Flora, U. S. Rubber

Mrs. J. P. Rousseau Elected President Of Demonstration Council

Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, Clarendon Harbor, was elected president of the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council at a meeting Friday, October 2, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Gasper at Flat Top.

Other officers named were Mrs. M. G. Echols, from the Flat Top Club, vice-president; Mrs. J. L. Saleeby, Clarendon Harbor, treasurer; Mrs. E. F. Gates, Waveland, secretary and Mrs. J. W. Wilkerson, Waveland publicity chairman.

The year book was set up by the officers of the various clubs in the county. Goals for the year were planned by the clubs presidents; songs and answer to roll calls, by the vice-presidents; workshop for each meeting by the secretaries and the council budget by the treasurers.

Mrs. Gasper took the members on a tour of her egg room and gave a demonstration on candeling and grading eggs.

Refreshments were served the 15 members present, by the Flat Top Club.

BUSINESS IN STATE IS STILL CLIMBING

Business activity in Mississippi during August registered nearly ten per cent above the August 1958 level. This figure sets a new record for August, although not quite up to the all-time high of last June. Sales of ordinary life insurance in Mississippi totaled $24,473,000 in August, a gain of 25 per cent over August 1958. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the August sales registered 353 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Production of crude petroleum and condensate in Mississippi in August is estimated at 4,292,400 barrels, a gain of 17 per cent over a year ago.

As indicated by claims for unemployment compensation, unemployment was at a very low level in August, probably the lowest of the past five years.

Reclaiming Co. at Vicksburg, and Dillingham Manufacturing Co., at Leland. The biggest expansions announced during the third quarter are those at the American Potash and Chemical Company plant near Aberdeen, which will spend $1,250,000 to increase its sodium chloride production from 15,000 to 22,500 tons a year and a $450,000 expansion at the Gulfport Glass Company in Gulfport.

Where does your food dollar go? Even wonder? Some folks think it all goes to the farmer. But he gets only 30 cents of the dollar you spend for food that comes from farms. The other 64 cents goes for labor costs.

HOW MANY APPLES?
In a pound, three medium apples. A pound of apples yields 1 1/2 pounds of applesauce. Three pounds of apples — or nine medium size apples — are just right for a nine inch pie. There are 24 to 36 medium apples in a peck.

BUGS AND BUTTERBEANS

Some gardeners have been finding wart-like growths on the pods of their late butterbeans. Then when they open them they find the beans are not filled out well. The bug specialists say the stink bug is the trouble maker. You will know him by his odor. He is shield shaped and may be brown, green or black.

He sticks his long beak into the butterbean pod and sucks the beans. You can kill this pest with DDT, sabadilla or sevin. For information on when and how much poison to use, ask for a copy of the leaflet "Kill Garden Bugs" at your home agent's office. It gives controls for other garden bugs, too.

BAKED FRENCH TOAST

4 Eggs
1 Cup milk
1/2 Teaspoon salt
6 Slices day-old bread
1/4 Cup melted butter
Beat eggs, stir in milk and salt. Pour into flat, shallow dish. Dip each slice of bread in mixture, turning to let both sides take up liquid. Place on well-buttered cookie sheet and brush tops of slices with melted butter. Bake in hot oven, 500 degrees, for 8 minutes. Turn slices and bake 5 more minutes until golden brown. Serve hot with butter and honey or syrup.

To vary this dish that will give you "something different" for

Happiness spreads fast by phone

Happiness is made up of a lot of little things — many of which happen by phone — like the joy you share instantly with proud grandparents when baby takes her first faltering steps... or the glow you get when a dear friend phones to say: "You're the first to know of our engagement."

When you stop and think of it, isn't "hello" the happiest of words and isn't your telephone, which repeats it, the most pleasant necessity in your home?

Miss. Power Company's Construction On Schedule

Construction on Mississippi Power Company's second 75,000 kilowatt generating unit at the Gulf Coast Generating plant is proceeding on schedule, according to an announcement by A. J. Watson, Jr., company president. The plant is located midway between Biloxi and Gulfport and the new unit is expected to be in operation early in 1960.

The main power house building is virtually complete and contractors are erecting the boiler and condenser. Approximately 130 workmen, representing 5 general contractors, are employed in this phase of construction. He noted that materials for the turbo-generator are arriving now and all parts are expected by the end of October. The generator is being supplied by General Electric Co. and will be erected by Gulf Engineering Company of New Orleans.

Commenting further, Mr. Watson said that population growth and the increased use of electricity had necessitated rapid expansion and strengthening of the electrical facilities in Southeast Mississippi. "As an illustration of growth," he said, "kilowatt-hour consumption has increased by at least 50% in the last five years. In addition, more and more new industry locations and expansions are being announced than ever before, and these new businesses, of course, create new job opportunities and new homes, all of which require more electricity. To prepare for this new development, we must build approximately three years ahead of actual needs so that an ample supply of electric power will be available whenever it is needed. Our present construction forecast calls for an expenditure of approximately $14 million each year through 1961, which is the largest construction budget in the company's history."

He also stated that while the contract crews are completing the generating unit at the Gulf Coast Plant, company crews are busily engaged in the construction of new transmission facilities which will be interconnected to the high voltage electric system serving this area.

CATTLE LICE

Cattle lice cost you money. They cut down on milk production; reduce weight gains and cause cattle to appear unthrifty.

Sometimes, especially when these lice are present in large numbers they cause the cattle to become anemic.

You can control them. And now, before cold weather gets here, is the time to do it. First of all recharge your homemade back rubbers to help prevent big building up of the lice. This will help keep down numbers of hornflies.

For a list of insecticides to use as dusts, sprays or dips to control lice, come by or call this office. The telephone number is HO-7-4631.

CRIMSON CLOVER PLANTING

This is the month of planting crimson clover. You can plant it with ryegrass on cultivated land or sow it on oats that are already up.

It is also an ideal time to plant crimson on sods like grazed down Bermuda, Bahia, or Coastal Bermuda.

If you disk the area lightly immediately after sowing seed, you will get better stands and better survival than if you sow the seed and don't disk.

Planted in sod, crimson needs phosphate and potash. A good application is 3 sacks of phosphate and one of potash. You do not need nitrogen unless oats or ryegrass are planted with the crimson.

FIRE LANES
Don't forget to disk or plow fire lanes between your pastures and public roads; pastures and woods.

Put fire lanes around stacked hay, around barns and other farm buildings. Protect what you have from fire.

Typewriter Ribbons

MISSISSIPPI'S 24 NEW INDUSTRIES DURING YEAR 1959

Mississippi gained 24 new industries during the third quarter of 1959, and another 17 industries expanded, providing 9,077 new industrial jobs, the Agricultural and Industrial Board reported today.

This brings the total for the first nine months of 1959 to 79 new industries and 36 expansions providing 7316 new industrial jobs, according to Agricultural and Industrial Board estimates.

This is new record for new industrial jobs in any one year, exceeding the high of 6,815 in 1953, and a new record for number of new industries, topping the 70 new industries in 1953.

The biggest new industries announced during the third quarter were Stainless Ware Co. of America at Flora, U. S. Rubber Reclaiming Co., Vicksburg and Dillingham Manufacturing Company at Leland.

The Stainless Ware Company, a $2,000,000 installation, makes stainless steel cookware and employs 300. Originally scheduled to move only part of its operation from Walled Lake, Mich., to Flora, the company decided to move the entire operation after its Michigan plant was totally destroyed by fire.

The U. S. Rubber Reclaiming Co. at Vicksburg represents a $1,200,000 investment and employs 50, while the Dillingham Manufacturing Co. at Leland will employ 250 in the manufacture of furniture.

The biggest expansions announced during the third quarter are those of the American Potash and Chemical Company plant near Aberdeen, which will spend $1,250,000 to increase its sodium chloride production from 15,000 to 22,500 tons a year, and a $450,000 expansion at the Gulfport Glass Company in Gulfport.

So far this year, there have been 24 new industries and 13 expansions financed under the "Balance Agriculture with Industry" bond program. The 37 bond issues, overwhelmingly approved at the polls, have totaled $10,780,000.

Mississippi's total manufacturing employment reached a new high of 120,500 in August, according to the Mississippi Employment Security Commission — 1100 jobs better than the previous record reported for November 1953.

Business Activity In Biloxi - Gulfport District Shows Gain

State College, Miss. — Business activity in the Biloxi-Gulfport district during August registered an 18 per cent gain over the same month a year ago, according to "The Mississippi Business Review"

Dr. Thomas W. Culp, Delta State University agronomist who has been working with the crop in Mississippi, says at present season can be recommended only to farmers who understand the problems and have the patience to do a good job of combining the crop. More easily harvested varieties are expected in the future and then assume may become a new major cash crop for the area. In two-year tests of all varieties and selections at the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville yields have averaged 1,390 pounds of seed per acre. Tests were also conducted at Cleveland and at Greenwood. Average yield of all varieties at all locations was 1,224 pounds of seed per acre. One test

monthly publication of the Business Research Station at Mississippi State University.

The district as a whole enjoyed a level of business 169 per cent above the 1947-49 base period. Biloxi reported business 188 per cent above the base period; Gulfport, 169; Bay St. Louis, 129; Pass Christian, 95 per cent; and Piquette, 79 per cent.

President Eisenhower wants the country to know that United States Savings Bonds now pay 3 1/2 per cent interest. Passed for this photo just after signing into law, a Congressional bill permitting the Treasury to increase interest on Series E and H Savings Bonds from the old 3 1/4 rate. The enlargement of a $100 bond is symbolic, of course, but carries the message that Savings Bonds are "Now bigger and better." The new rate was made retroactive to June 1. In addition, the 40-million persons already holding Savings Bonds benefit by the legislation. The interest rate on outstanding bonds has been increased by at least one-half per cent from now on if held to maturity. "To my mind," the President said, "there is no better way of saving, no more effective way of strengthening our power for peace, than to own United States Savings Bonds. To buy these bonds is to express faith in America. It helps provide the economic strength in both our Government and in individual families on which our freedom depends. I hope that the holding of both old and new Savings Bonds even more attractive will serve as a renewed invitation to every citizen to buy and hold these 'Shares in America.'"

PINE

College, Miss.—Recent studies by the Mississippi Experiment Station confirm the importance of planting pine seedlings early.

Early pine seedlings from the seed source was lifted from the Mississippi Experiment Station and planted in the Forest, Miss. Experiment Forest.

Treatments were used in the Forest. The Forest was divided into three sections. The first section was planted with pine seedlings.

The effect of exposure, although slightly greater on the silt, showed a consistent trend to both sides. The results show that with bare-rooted stock the safest practice is the old one of keeping the exposure period at a minimum.

The effect of planting depth indicates that the seedling should be placed at or slightly below the original ground line. It further indicates that correct placement is of greater importance on the silt than on the clay.

The total height of the seedlings also shows some interesting response to the treatments. Exposure seems to eliminate less vigorous plants. Deeper planting reduces height and affects the plant's competitive position.

The complete report is published in the October issue of Mississippi Farm Research available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

TWO TRAFFIC
DEATHS PER DAY

Two traffic deaths per day! This grim traffic forecast for the remainder of 1959, comes from the Mississippi Highway Patrol, whose statisticians say the state will be lucky if there are not more deaths.

With 12 weeks remaining in 1959, an anticipated average weekly toll of slightly more than 13 deaths per week would merely tie the last year's highway accident total of 548 killed.

As of midnight, Oct. 8 Mississippi traffic accidents have cost 390 lives, seven deaths more than last year. The margin of increase in '59 traffic accidents has been shaved, however, in recent weeks.

What will kill these two motorists per day?

Public Safety Commissioner Tom Scarborough says the three chief probable causes will be excessive speed, failing to grant right of way, and being on the wrong side of the road (but not in passing). A study of accident experience over the past two years indicates that speed was a contributing factor in roughly 28 to 29 percent of all fatal auto mishaps.

Failure to grant right of way and being on the wrong side of the road each counted for approximately 18 to 20 per cent.

The three together cause roughly 65 percent of all fatal accidents.

It is therefore a safe wager that better than 6 out of 10 of the motorists yet to die in 1959 Miss. traffic accidents will be killed in smashups where excessive speed, failing to honor someone's right of way, or being on the wrong side of the road was involved.

Commissioner Scarborough appeals to state motorists to take note of these safety facts.

"Don't be among these unlucky 13 or 14 to die each week on our streets and highways," he warns.

PARENTS SHOULD BE INTERESTED IN CHILDREN'S HEALTH

Sometimes parents feel that they are beset by requests for their presence at school.

But there's one that is being made now throughout Mississippi that the state's health officer urges parents to heed. It's the notice of the school medical examination.

"When you get the notice that pupils in your child's classroom are going to get the regular school medical examination, make it a point to be present," states Dr. N. C. Knight, in an appeal to parents of school-age children.

"Apart from showing your child, his teacher and the local health officer that you are interested in your offspring's health, your presence will enable you to gain the basic information you need to know about the child's growth and health status—information that will enable you to understand him and help him achieve to his maximum in school," explains Dr. Gray.

The medical examination, provided as part of the school health program, has a five-fold purpose, according to Dr. N. C. Knight, Medical Director.

1. Provides parents, teachers, and public health nurses with information concerning the growth and health status of the child.
2. Identifies a child who needs further medical examinations.
3. Identifies a child who needs treatment and corrective procedures.

4. Identifies a child whose school program needs to be modified.

5. Provides positive, constructive educational experience for both parent and child.

"When the parent is not present to share in the experience and findings of the examination, the child has been short-changed," asserts Dr. Knight.

Last year parents of 76 per cent of the children examined failed to appear for the examination.

According to the plan of the school health program carried out by the health department, routinely children in grades one, six and eleven receive school medical examinations. In addition, examinations are given to special referrals and pupils engaging in competitive sports.

OCTOBER IS TIME TO START
SPRING GARDEN

October is not only the month for planting the spring garden, but for planting much of it as well. The beauty and success of a garden next spring depends largely on the things planned and planted right now. This is the accepted month for planting daffodils throughout the South. There have been plenty of showers throughout the South. There have been plenty of showers throughout the summer; and the forecast is for continuation of occasional rains, but if the weather turns dry, azaleas and camellias must have heavy waterings.

STUDENTS TO VIE
FOR $950.00 IN
PRIZES THIS YEAR

High school juniors and seniors will vie for $950 in prizes this school year in an essay contest on "Our Industrial Future" sponsored by the Agricultural and Industrial Board.

This will be the 2nd competition. Earlier this year, 18-year-old Judy Weiner, of Greenville, won $300 top prize and Thomas W. Milner III, of Gulfport, won second prize of $200.

The purpose of the contest is to stimulate original thinking by Mississippi's young people about industrializing Mississippi, which is the program of the Agricultural and Industrial Board.

Copies and regulations for the 1960 contest have been sent to school superintendents by Aubrey E. Gatlin, assistant director of the A&I Board, who originated the contest.

Nine finalists will be selected (three from each Supreme Court district), with each finalist to be awarded $50. The statewide winner and runner-up will then be selected from these nine finalists.

March 1, 1960, will be the deadline for writing an essay, and the winners will be selected by April 20, 1960, with winners to be announced and awards presented at an A&I Board meeting soon thereafter.

Slaughter Plants In Miss.
Killed 74,000 Head Of Livestock In August

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 1, 1959—Commercial slaughter plants in Mississippi killed 74,000 head of livestock in August, 3,000 head less than in July but 10,800 head more than in Aug. 1958, according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Total liveweight of animals slaughtered during Aug. was 29,311,000 lbs. compared to 31,949,000 lbs. in July and 27,809,000 pounds in August 1958.

The total August slaughter consisted of 20,200 cattle with a total liveweight of 15,877,000 pounds, 8,900 calves weighing 3,560,000 pounds and 45,500 hogs totaling 9,874,000 pounds. These totals compare with the July slaughter of 21,900 cattle, 8,700 calves, and 47,000 hogs, and those of August 1958 when 22,300 cattle, 11,400 calves, and 30,000 hogs were slaughtered.

Livestock slaughter during the first eight months of 1959 totaled 584,800 head—145,800 cattle, 54,200 calves, and 384,500 hogs—compared to a total of 488,500 head—145,500 cattle, 80,500 calves and 262,500 hogs—during the first eight months of 1958. Total liveweight for the January-August period this year was 228,325,000 pounds, compared to 199,491,000 pounds for the same period in 1958.

PRICES ON COMMODITIES

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 1, 1959—Prices received for commodities sold in mid-September were below a month earlier for most animals according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Hog prices at $12.80 were 40 cents per hundred pounds lower than in August and compared with $18.70 per hundred pounds a year earlier. Prices received by farmers for dairy products were up seasonally. A bushel of corn prices from a year earlier can probably be attributed to the further advancement in harvesting of the crop this year.

Mid-September prices and changes from August were as follows: Corn $1.22 per bushel, down 8 cents; wheat $1.75 per bushel, unchanged; oats 73 cents per bushel, up 1 cent; cotton 13.2 cents per pound, up 2.1 cents; cottonseed $39.00 per ton, down $5.00; soybeans $1.90 per bushel, down 10 cents; all hay $20.30 per ton, up $1.00; hogs $12.80 per hundred pounds, down 40 cents; beef cattle $18.30 per hundred pounds, down 40 cents; calves $25.50 per hundred pounds, down $1.20; commercial broilers 16 cents per pound, up 5 cents; farm chickens 12.5 cents per pound, down 5 cents.

1958. Fewer calves are being slaughtered this year, but hog slaughter is running considerably higher than in 1958.
